Bees have taken part into Cire Trudon’s Success since Trudon’s early years. Cire Trudon now wishes to do something for them.

“ Billions of bees disappear every year throughout the world. The survival of more than 80% of the world’s botanical species, as well as the reproduction of 84% of those species (by pollination) cultivated in Europe, rely on bees. ”

TERRE D’ABEILLES is the french NGO, protecting bees and other pollinators. It acts against the massive extermination of bees by pesticides, and against the impact of the chemical agriculture. It supports biodiversity and diversity of food production. Terre d’abeille wants to increase public and political awareness about the essential ecological and economical role of bees in the environmental balance : ecosystem and agriculture. It is a driving force for concrete actions in favor of pollinators’ preservation and beekeeping; a driving force for the agriculture to get more respectful of life, public health and environment.

Terre d’abeilles are the referent NGO for “Grenelle de l’environnement” - the most important environmental conference in France.

Further details can as well as a petition - “ Save the bees for our future ! ” - can be found on www.sauvonslesabeilles.com.

Terre d’Abeilles is developing the foremost European genetic Conservatory network of the Black Bee Apis mellifera mellifera, within a regional natural park: “Parc naturel régional de la Brenne”.
